DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 – 6, drawn to system for providing aggregate transactions for offerings for a plurality of sources over a network, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- II. Claims 7 – 17, drawn to system for providing electronic transactions with a plurality of sources for a user over a network, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- III. Claims 18 – 31, drawn to module library for assembling custom data transfer protocols for data exchange with plurality of sources, classified in class 709, subclass 200.
- IV. Claims 32 – 36, drawn to customizing data transfer protocols according to an analysis of source systems, classified in class 709, subclass 200.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I & II and invention III & IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions I & II are for online purchase, whereas, inventions III & IV are directed to multi-computer data transferring.

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because invention I drawn to system for providing aggregate transactions for offerings for a plurality of sources over a network, whereas, invention II drawn to system for providing electronic transactions with a plurality of sources for a user over a network. The subcombination has separate utility such as search capability in invention II.

Inventions III and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because invention III drawn to module library for assembling custom data transfer protocols for data exchange with plurality of sources, whereas, invention IV drawn to drawn to customizing data transfer protocols according to an analysis of source systems. The subcombination has separate utility such as evaluating the data interface of a source system.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Invention I & II is not required for invention III & IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
